LETTER OF ADMIRAL CHARLES WAGER 1866

Mr

13
Dunrobin Office 2: Nov: 1787.

I ask pardon for ^{not} answering the receipt of your kind Letter of the 19 Oct: before now which I hope you will excuse considering it did not call for an immediate answer. I am extremely oblig'd to you for the particular favour you was so kind to show to my Nephew Mr. Watson who is now returned and is very sensible of your civility and kindness to him.
I suppose the Affairs of your Mission goes on as fast as you expected it would and perhaps may end without making Converts on either side but that you may say is no business of mine. I hope it will not be too troublesome and tiresome to you.
The French have made a new proposal to regulate the Trade in the West Indies and it being a little dishonourable to recede or give up, their Dict of 1729, which you will well remember was in many particulars contrary to the Treaty of 1698. they have willing to have a new Treaty to come as near as we can be persuaded to it, to the said Dict. and they as before has been refer'd to your Board, and to ours Hon:ble: C^o: of Trade

We

We have already made our Report upon it differing but little from what we said before, their proposal being very smooth, as if they were really willing to suffer our Navigation to be freer more unobstructed than it has been; it will be said that we are obliged to Governor MacKenzie for this good disposition of theirs; however, as we have reason always to suspect their good intentions to us we have been perhaps too cautious in giving our opinion about it, but refer as we did before, to the Board of Trade, who are much better Judges in these Affairs than we pretend to be. But I think it is probable we may hammer out a Treaty to make our Navigation in the West Indies much freer and better than their Edicts and their better than the Marquis de Maudslayi.
We have now a new and strong complaint from the West India Merchants against the Spanish Guard de Costas who they say have carried into the Havens two considerable ships from Jamaica, and one loaded with Provision for Jamaica into Port Rico; the Merchant complaining (by Petition to the King) was ordered to attend the Council at the Duke of Newcastle's Office, where about 150 appeared, two thirds of which I dare say had no concern in the affair complaint of however it really concerns all that trade that was especially to Jamaica, for Insurance is given from 5 to 10 per Cent but when they come to make out the proof of the ship carried into the Havane, it was only this that a Ship is arrived at Bristle who was ship & insured by some Spanish Guard de Cortes near the Havana and these Spaniards had told the Mexico that they had carried these ships into the Havane, for being Legwood or some other Contraband in bond: these ships not being certain makes it believe that this is true & I think the question will be how long we shall have Leg Wood or even pieces of Eight in our Country before it shall become not Contraband or prohibited, and how the Spaniards can distinguish between a South Sea Company p^r of 8 and a private trade p^r of 8. but indeed the violence with which they treat our people in these occasions must not be suffered: they have some of our Seamen & taken near two years and force them to go to Sea in their men of War & where they make them navigate their ships for them in time to the rest without wages or clothes to their backs.

The ship carried into Portorico you have seen the Affidavits of in the News papers: Filagelets was so sensible of them that being an illegal Capture that he has promised the Merchants concerned in that Ship that he himself will be security that they shall be fully satisfied for their loss in that Ship: so that as I was told these Merchants did not join with the Complaint.

However those that did come complaining for them made it their principal Case having the Be-proof of it. This affair has been considered in Council more than once, and a strong Memorial is sending or sent to Mr. Keen to present to the King of Spain demanding in strict satisfaction for these and other Depredations (especially in the Navierancean) or else we shall be obliged to take it, or Grant Reparation.
This may possibly produce a new Treaty with Spain as good at least as that we may possibly have for some time. I am come to Town with my family and my wife has been this up with a Cough and Cough ever since it is seems what is going about as they calculate we both join in our Compliments and best respects to you and your family; and hope we shall see you too before the Parliament meets, where they say we shall have the same thing over again: Be me the favour to make my Compliments to your wife and believe me to be for Mr. Keen to be Yr. Worthy

PREFATORY NOTE

This list is based upon a collection of manuscripts which once belonged to George Chalmers, of England. The volumes were purchased by Peter Force, and with his collection came into the possession of the Library of Congress in 1867. Known as the Vernon-Wager Papers, they comprise the correspondences of two men, Sir Charles Wager and Edward Vernon. They cover a very interesting period in the history of the English operations in the West Indies. The expedition against Cartagena and Cuba, a proposed expedition against Georgia and Florida, and the attempts to suppress piracy on the Spanish main, constitute the naval features. The slave trade, the commercial operations of the South Sea Company, and much relating to Jamaica, the Bahamas, and Nova Scotia, are matters of civil concern. The light thrown upon the history of North America and upon British Colonial policy is important; as is also the development of naval regulation and policy when Great Britain was contesting with Spain the supremacy in the West Indies.

The list has been prepared by Mr. John C. Fitzpatrick, of the Division of Manuscripts.

PLAN FOR AN ATTACK ON MANILA

PREPARED BY ADMIRAL WAGER, 1739

The Expedition to Manila is to consist of 1	Ship of —	60

2	—	50
1	—	40
1	Ship —	10

Two or three Transports to carry Ordnance Stores and Provisions, Medicines, etc.

To be carried in the Men of War & Storeships 1,000 Soldiers viz One Regiment of 700 Men and 300 Invalids

The particulars of Ordnance Stores are not yet exactly determined. But care will be taken that every thing that is necessary shall be sent having got the Maj^r Order for that purpose.

It is also proposed to send the same number of Ships to the South Sea to visit of the Spaniards in that part of the World: by taking their ships and all their Embarkations many of which are very rich especially those which carry the Treasure from Lima to Panama Many places on that Coast are weak and defenseless not having Armies Water except by a few Privateers or Pyrates who have formerly done them great damage

There is also a probability of persuading the Viceroy and people of Peru to revolt from the Spanish Government, and making themselves independent of it especially if a number of troops can be conveyed thither by way of Panama 1,000 is thought to be sufficient and 1,000 or more to be left at Panama to other places they may march over land from Puebla or the River Rios

Chagie from whence it is not above two days March to Panama which be easily taken or be is believed, with two thousand men

An Expedition against Cartagen will require about six thirds of the time of Bettle to be join to those with Vornon. It will require 4000 Soldiers properly commanded which number must be at least 6000 from of transports with a sufficient quantity of all sorts of Provisions & other proper for a large and such an Enterprise.

The strength of Cartagen shall be particularly shown in a day or two

If the Expedition against Cartagen should be any accident miscary; or that the place should be taken and 2000 two thousand men probably be thought sufficient for a Garrison there and the rest may be sent to Portabel and Panama as above mentioned

If the French should send a strong Squadron to Cartagen to join those of Spain for the protection and security of the Gallies in their portage so that it may not be thought advisable to make an attempt on Cartagen while they are there, nor to attack the French, tho the Spaniards think be on bad terms; for which they must go to Portabel and return to Cartagen. Cartagen may be attempted the more easily when they are gone on the Expedition to Panama may be pursued; or if the French may at Paris ^{away} ~~they~~ they may be destroyed at Vera Cruz.
